Mattress protectors with breathable and/or cooling features are great, with water-resistant protectors offering the most complete protection. Your mattress protector should be removeable and washable. We also highly recommend that you use a mattress protector to prevent damage to your mattress. We recommend that you leave your mattress for a minimum of 24 hours to air out and expand.

Care for your kokoon sleep systems® mattress.

You've unboxed and set your kokoon sleep systems® mattress free from its packaging. Now what? We recommend that you leave your mattress for a minimum of 24 hours to air out and expand.

We also highly recommend that you use a mattress protector to prevent damage to your mattress. Mattress protectors with breathable and/or cooling features are great, with water-resistant protectors offering the most complete protection. Your mattress protector should be removeable and washable to prevent mattress staining/discolouration over time.

Keep your kokoon sleep systems® mattress clean.

See our recommendation for a mattress protector above. You may also clean your kokoon sleep systems® mattress with a lint brush and/or by vacuuming it. Have a spill? Gently dab away any spilled liquids with a clean towel. If the spill is excessive, you can lean the uncovered mattress at an angle with the top facing down as this will help drain any remaining liquid(s) more efficiently.

Give your kokoon sleep systems® mattress love.

We all need to take a breath sometimes, and a mattress needs to as well! Allow your mattress to breathe regularly by turning back the bedding, or by removing it entirely, for a few hours each week. To prevent permanent damage to the coils, silk filling, and/or bed base do not use your mattress as a trampoline.

Also note, the kokoon sleep systems® mattress is not designed to be flipped over as the materials are strategically placed. This is great news as no flipping of your mattress is required. However, to promote maximum product longevity, on occasion, rotate the mattress 180 degrees. This ensures more even wear over time. You can do this a few times a year or once per month for even better
